A Message from THE CEO

Our tenants remain at the very centre of Unity Housing's focus and I acknowledge the invaluable contribution they have made together with Unity Housing staff and others, in generously contributing their time, knowledge and lived experience to sharpen our focus and keep improving on the things that matter most to our tenants.

Our new Tenant Engagement Strategy 2023–2027 details four key goals to address the needs of our tenants and to contribute to improving their lives through social and community inclusion.

As a Tier 1 housing provider, we are delighted that our Tenant Engagement Strategy is tenant-centred and, as such, seeks to maximise positive outcomes with and for our tenants.

In addition to our past achievements, we will strengthen our commitment to our tenants by focusing on the following areas:

- Increasing our focus and service delivery to Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people, people living with disability, and multicultural communities
- Identifying and activating opportunities to support the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals
- Better acknowledging that children and youth are important tenants too
- Increasing opportunities for us to engage with our tenants during times of restricted community access so we can help keep tenants connected with family and friends, and ensuring they can access online information.

Our current Strategic Plan (2021–2024) has 'Empower Tenants' as the first of five strategic pillars. Through delivery of this plan and with empowering tenants as a key strategy, our tenants will have greater opportunities to participate in their community and achieve better positive life outcomes.

It is, of course, essential that all of our people actively contribute and fully participate in this Tenant Engagement Strategy as delivery partners, to ensure we achieve our shared goals.

I look forward to applauding the progress we make against our Tenant Engagement Strategy in the coming years. Unity Housing will continue to provide updates to our staff, tenants and service delivery partners on a regular basis.

Matthew Woodward

1. Our Strategy and Operating Environment

Unity Housing seeks to support vibrant and thriving neighbourhoods and communities through our diverse social and affordable housing portfolio. We house approximately 4,600 tenants in more than 3,100 properties, including four boarding houses in the inner Adelaide area, community housing, disability housing, transitional housing, Aboriginal housing, NRAS housing, student housing, and fee for service property and tenancy management. We have approximately 3,600 adults and 1,000 children and youth living in our properties across South Australia.

Our core purpose is to provide affordable, safe and secure homes for South Australians on low incomes and we achieve this through building partnerships to create tenancies that promote independence and viable and sustainable communities, supported by our five strategic pillars:

- Empower Tenants
- Develop Housing Portfolio
- Strengthen People and Culture
- Enhance Business Capacity
- Nurture Partnerships

Since 2008, Unity Housing has committed significant resources to engage with our tenants in a meaningful way. This pursuit has always been central to our work and remains a strategic priority for the future.

Our Tenant Engagement Strategy 2023–2027 seeks to build on this rich history with the strategy being strongly supported by four key goals:

1. Tenant Engagement
2. Community Inclusion
3. Diversity and Independence
4. Environment and Sustainable Living

At Unity Housing, our aspiration is for our tenants to thrive, believing that everyone is entitled to live in quality homes; in safe and sustainable neighbourhood environments; and has the opportunity for social and economic participation. Realising this vision is heavily reliant upon Unity Housing forming strong and effective partnerships with our tenants, and support from provider partners and other stakeholders.

Unity Housing staff look forward to continuing our work together with our tenants, community groups, human service organisations and all levels of government to meet our tenants' needs and realise their life aspirations.

At Unity Housing, tenant engagement is more than a 'bolt on' or discretionary activity in the provision of property and tenancy management. To Unity Housing, tenant outcomes are about more than just a roof over a person's head. This ensures we focus on the social, economic and health indicators of improved wellbeing, resilience and quality of life, which is supported by the recognition that safe and affordable housing is an essential social determinant of health.

By implementing our new Tenant Engagement Strategy and with support from our community partners, we will enable our tenants to achieve:

- long lasting and sustainable tenancies through increasing positive engagement between tenants, Unity Housing staff and support agencies; and
- increased participation in community life.

For children and younger tenants, Unity Housing will seek to find meaningful ways for them to participate and make a contribution within their communities. Other indicators of successful tenancies include reduced evictions, rent arrears, anti-social behaviour, intergenerational disadvantage and risk of homelessness.

We acknowledge the incredible impact COVID-19 has had on our communities and recognise that our operating practice has indelibly been influenced by ongoing COVID-19 safe practices required for the life of this strategy and beyond. We are confident we can successfully meet this new challenge in collaboration with our tenants and service delivery partners.

2. Our Commitment

Unity Housing will ensure the strategic commitment and resources necessary to deliver the Tenant Engagement Strategy will be made available, and will provide value for money with clear and achievable outcomes. We will deliver high quality services and projects where we have relevant expertise.

We will not duplicate effort or resources for initiatives or projects that are already being provided by other more appropriate providers and, from time-to-time, we may purchase or build the capacity to deliver required outputs and outcomes.

We will ensure our actions and tenancy management decisions promote social inclusion and independence, and we encourage and support the preferences and individuality of people living in Unity Housing properties and surrounding neighbourhoods.

We will achieve this through creating a culture and environment for increased tenant empowerment and through fully embracing and supporting our tenants to both lead and become involved in the co-design of ideas and bringing these to fruition.

We will develop and implement initiatives sustainably with a wider financial and value-for-money perspective to support our business and service delivery activities, ensuring we follow a social and environmental impact agenda.

This will be achieved by working closely with our communities and partners to share resources and expertise to co-deliver plans to achieve these desired outcomes.

3. Our Tenants

Childhood and teenage years are an important time for healthy development, learning, and establishing the foundations for future wellbeing. With children and youth representing approximately 20 per cent of our tenant population, through collaboration with our support partners, Unity Housing aims to facilitate positive change to improve the longer-term outcomes of young people who experience homelessness, overcrowding and housing stress through stable housing and access to health and education. This focus will lead to improved neighbourhood and social connections and optimistic future employment prospects.

In the next three years, our engagement with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander tenants will be strengthened through the implementation of Unity Housing's 'Reflect' Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) through which we will identify and implement practical actions to improve the way we connect with our Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander tenants and their communities.

The RAP and tenant engagement initiatives will help to shape Unity Housing's culture and the way we do business so that our services are culturally appropriate and more accessible for Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people.

Unity Housing's tenants have always been at the heart of what we do and we work hard to ensure we connect with and deliver quality housing and services for our tenants. Tenant feedback through regular satisfaction surveys enables us to continuously improve our actions as we constantly review our policies and procedures. Results and findings are communicated to tenants who are regularly invited to participate in feedback surveys and face-to-face discussions.

4. Our People

Unity Housing's workforce of more than 100 people includes employees, volunteers and students who, as a collective, are committed to activating our Tenant Engagement Strategy over the coming years. We are active across South Australia and passionate about contributing to improving the lives of our tenants.

When asked what meaningful tenant engagement means to them, the following comments encapsulate the spirit of our team:

"We all come from different backgrounds and have unique levels of experience and interests which can be a huge benefit to our tenants."

"This plan extends beyond just providing housing and holding tenant events. It's about building relationships through tenant engagement and provides space for tenants to be heard, listened to and involve tenants every step of the way."

"Together with our tenants and other key stakeholders, we will continue to identify additional ways to highlight, promote and celebrate tenant achievements within the community."

5. Our Partners

Over many years, Unity Housing has established a successful service delivery model built on partnership and collaboration with a diverse group of agencies to facilitate sustainable tenancies for some 4,600 tenants.

Together we facilitate housing and support referrals, enabling tenants to receive both housing and support services. This collaborative service model builds capacity for our tenants and strengthens the neighbourhoods and communities in which they live.

We actively collaborate with tenants and other partners who share our willingness and passion to deliver localised services that support the development of sustainable, self-reliant communities with high levels of active citizenship, pride and wellbeing.

Unity Housing will draw on a range of best practice principles from five acclaimed engagement models in addition to Unity Housing's own Tenant Communications Plan and includes:

- Asset-Based Community Development
- Reconciliation Action Plan 'Reflect'
- International Association of Public Participation (IAP2)
- Outcomes and Impact Measurement
- UN Sustainable Development Goals

Our tenant engagement model will demonstrate and maximise:

- Responsiveness and flexibility
- Building partnerships and connections to facilitate a tenant's meaningful participation in social and community life
- Co-design of tenant initiatives for people who are vulnerable and/or socially isolated
- Independence and connections for our tenants

8. Impact Measurement and Evaluation

Unity Housing is committed to meaningful impact measurement and evaluation across our organisation to determine the value of the work we do and the outcomes we deliver through better understanding our tenants' needs, and to use this information and feedback to improve our services and the way in which we connect with our tenants.

We will continue to explore impact evaluation and measurement best practice while we broaden implementation across our organisation, resulting in the future planning of sustainable and impactful tenant engagement initiatives.

This will be achieved through:

- measuring the positive change in our tenants' lives resulting from the services and tenant engagement activities that we deliver;
- assessing our outcomes to enable us to improve the way we deliver our services and tenant engagement activities; and
- demonstrating value for money to our funders, stakeholders and supporters.
