BLAIR ATHOL

Ashburton Street, Blair Athol

Completion September 2017

Project value $3.5m

Dwelling mix Eight houses

Target group The project delivered a successful mixed tenure model that integrates social housing renters, affordable housing owners, and group homes for people living with disabilities.

Partners EBL Disability Services; Oryx Property; Renewal SA; South Australian Housing Trust

Awards 2018 Urban Development Institute of Australia (UDIA SA): Award for Excellence in Community Housing

Project summary This innovative and award-winning project was delivered without the need for any government funding contribution. This was achieved by leveraging the sale of four obsolete social housing dwellings and the reinvestment of the realised funds to purchase and develop land. This $3.5 million project achieved an overall housing uplift of eight properties:

- two new three-bedroom Silver Standard group homes for people living with disability
 - two new three-bedroom community housing rental properties
 - four new three-bedroom dwellings sold to the first home buyers' market,
- and achieved the principal objective of creating two new purpose-built disability group homes integrated with social and market housing.

Completion 2003

Project value $9m

Dwelling mix 16 houses

Target group Social housing for people on low incomes

Partners Partners: Adelaide City Council; Anglicare SA; SACHA

Project summary This project delivers 16 accommodation options including 12 units built to accessible standards and tenanted by frail aged people who were previously homeless. The bulk of these tenants are supported by the Aged City Living Program at Hutt Street Centre or through aged care packages administered by the Anglican Inner City Aged Care Program. The four townhouses provide homes for women escaping domestic violence, and refugee families.
